PROFESSIONAL SERVICES FOR ASSOCIATIONS

Peace of mind, delivered, world-wide.

Discover how we can help you and your members to realise your vision, mission and strategic objectives.

The Congrex Group's knowledge and experience encompasses the full range of association activities. Coupled with a truly global presence, we can deliver wherever you need.

Association Global Services (AGS), an independently managed company within The Congrex Group, is the leading provider of quality professional management and consulting services to trade and professional associations world-wide.

AGS helps organisations thrive in the age of globalisation, sharing knowledge, professional practices and human communication. AGS is the only company with the ability to deliver an integrated solution for associations that want to improve, grow and succeed globally.

Take your organisation to the next level, consider AGS for professional management services:

Is your association facing:

• Growth

Your growing organisation's requirements call for new or additional staff and service capabilities

• Strategic Change

Strategic change in the vision and purpose of your association calls for new services and capabilities to realise the new potential

• Member Dissatisfaction

Your current services no longer match the expectations or needs of your members

• Threats / Competitors

Changes in the environment force your association to consider new approaches and solutions to maintain your current market position or to exploit new opportunities

• Budget / Finance Issues

There is a need for professional help to reach the next level of growth or a financial crisis requires a change in resource allocation

AGS delivers:

• Flexibility & Skills

Access to a specialised multi-lingual team of highly experienced association managers, and offices located in key cities around the world, providing just those services your association needs

• Strength in Partnership

Your association can leverage the reach and breadth of AGS's network of offices, staff and understanding of competitive markets

• Our Experience, Your Advantage

Our experience in creating and growing global organisations provides you with a strategic advantage and tested solutions

• The Top & Bottom Line

Responsible cost management with an entrepreneurial approach to grow revenues

• Solutions

Staff dedicated to solutions, customer service and quality in everything we do

Our mission is simple: To provide the services and solutions to bring success to your membership-based organisation.

Together we create success

Consider how to leverage one of the most common and most effective tactics to grow internationally; through meetings.

Seminars, conferences, training workshops; all of these are effective platforms on which to build your international development. Meetings and meeting management strategies should feature prominently in your strategic development.

Successful events will;

- promote your brand & organisation
- act as a platform for the delivery of products and services
- serve as a networking and information exchange opportunity for members
- recruit and retain members

Your Congrex team has the expertise and experience to take your plans and ambitions and turn them into reality. We are known for delivering meetings of all sizes, anywhere in the world, from specialised conferences with a few participants to global summits attended by thousands of delegates.
